

1 A physics textbook states that “when carrying out experimental measurements there will always be errors and uncertainties”.

(a) Describe what physicists mean by error and by uncertainty.

(2)

(b) Give two reasons why a measurement may have an uncertainty.

(2)

(Total for Question 1 = 4 marks)